Achievements

Samyagana

I authored my first novel which spanned over 76,000 words when i was 23. Other books are in pipeline

Self Learnings

With the limited time had, I self learnt coding and built real world projects and beautiful websites and also on creative side, i did short movies, plays stop motion animations etc.

About Me

I explored various creative pursuits, from writing to filmmaking, before finding my passion for web development. Born in a rural village, I completed my schooling in Sagar Tq and Shivamogga. After leaving my ECE studies, I authored a book, obtained a film-making diploma, and published my first novel. Inspired by creating immersive experiences, I self-learned web development, building real-world projects. I am now ready to make an impact!
